This new resort draws visitors to a lesser known part of Florida

Not many people will have heard of Cape Coral, Florida.

That's because this area was, until relatively recently, well off the beaten track.

With so much else to see and do in the Sunshine State, there was just no incentive to opt for Cape Coral.

But that is changing fast with the opening of The Resort at MarinaVillage.

Located at Tarpon Point Marina, Cape Coral, this self-contained, luxury resort provides all the traveller with all they could want from a luxury break.

And one need not leave the property.

The Resort at MarinaVillage has been designed and developed around the deep-water marina, which has direct access to the Gulf of Mexico and the Intracoastal Waterway.

Whether one is nautical or not, the gently swaying string of luxury yachts and launches moored here provides a spectacular backdrop for a stay in one of Florida's leading resort hotels.

A top notch resort

The Resort at MarinaVillage impresses from first arriving, with the entrance and lobby area to the hotel dominated by the stunning spiral staircase and glass fronted reception area.

A warm welcome

And its not just the décor.

The staff from front desk right through provide excellent service with a friendly approach that makes you know you are truly welcome.

Accommodation at the resort

Guests stay in plush studio, one, two or three-bedroom apartments with views of the Caloosahatchee River, San Carlos Bay and the Gulf of Mexico.

These are self-contained units with full cooking and washing facilities and a home-from-home feel (albeit it luxury home).

The resort also provides pet friendly accommodation and offers a Canine Concierge service.

The Resort at MarinaVillage may be a new resort but it has already established a reputation that will assure its long term future.

Fine dining and cocktails with a view to savour

Within and around the marina, The Resort at MarineVillage offers a choice of fine and casual alfresco dining and umpteen spots to sunbathe overlooking the water.

Marker 92 (above) is the resorts fine dining restaurant.

The Nauti Mermaid

The Nauti Mermaid, is the place to make friends, particularly during happy hour cocktails, with stunning views over the water and live music at weekends.

This is the place where memories are made.

There is also a small cluster of boutique shops, the Esterra Spa and Salon, which offers a full range of treatments and a fitness centre.
